Undergraduate Coastal Community Fellowship Opportunity

Seeking undergraduate students looking for an opportunity to work on coastal land use issues in Sussex County, Delaware. Join staff from the Colleges of Marine and Earth Studies, Agriculture and Natural Resources and Human Services, Education and Public Policy to work on various summer projects that will help Sussex County government and local municipalities address the impacts of growth and development in Southern Delaware.

All students who have an interest in local community issues are welcome to apply, but students with backgrounds in economics, social science, history, natural resources, environmental science, public policy, agriculture, and political science are especially encouraged. We are looking for three individuals who can work as a team, are self-motivated and can produce results during a 10-week program that will begin June 2, 2008 and end August 8, 2008.

Students will be required to reside in Sussex County during the fellowship period. The summer stipend will be $5,000.

Send resume and cover letter by February 15, 2008 to:
